

Ohio Administrative Code

Rule 1501:46-3-08 Removal of barking or unruly animals.

Effective: July 16, 2021

If the menacing attitude of any animal under the control or supervision of any person within any area administered by the division excites fear in other persons, or if the animal disturbs the quiet enjoyment by other persons of any area administered by the division by incessant barking, whining, howling, crying or other incessant sharp, abrupt outcries, or other means, a natural resources officer may direct that the animal be removed by the owner or handler from any area administered by the division.
