

Ohio Administrative Code

Rule 1501:46-3-10 Removal of plants and other natural materials.

Effective: June 30, 2024

Except by permit issued for scientific or educational purpose by the chief of the division, it is unlawful to willfully or negligently pick, dig up, cut, mutilate, destroy, injure, disturb, move, molest, alter, treat, burn, or carry away any tree or plant or portion thereof, including but not limited to leaf mold, flowers, foliage, fruit, grass, turf, humus, shrubs, and dead wood, except in a specific area where the chief has authorized. Pine cones on the ground, berries, fruit, tree nuts, mushrooms, and naturally-shed antlers may be carried away during daylight hours from any area except any area where a restriction against such activities has been posted. Such taking may be done for personal use only and not for commercial purposes.
