

Ohio Administrative Code

Rule 4733-9-07 Consequences of noncompliant conduct with examination policies and procedures.

Effective: August 1, 2014

Evidence of failing to comply with the examination administrators policies and procedures subsequent to an examination may also be cause for action by the board. An examinee who does not fully comply with the examination administrators policies and procedures during and after an examination will be subject to having their examination results invalidated and being prohibited from taking the examination(s) for a period of time as determined by the board.
