

Ohio Administrative Code Rule 901:12-15-04 Transportation.

Effective: September 29, 2011

- (A) Suckling foals must be transported separately from other animals and must be transported with their dams, unless the health and safety of the foal is compromised;
 - (B) Stallions and jacks must be separated from other equines during transport;
 - (C) Equines must not be transported in two-tiered or double-deck semi-trailers which are designed to transport cattle, sheep or swine;
 - (D) Non-ambulatory disabled equine must not be loaded for transport except for treatment; and,
 - (E) Equines must be able to stand upright in their normal position without their heads, exclusive of the ears, touching the top of the transport conveyance.
-