

Ohio Revised Code

Section 4123.85 Claims for compensation or benefits in cases of occupational diseases.

Effective: October 20, 1993

Legislation: House Bill 107 - 120th General Assembly

In all cases of occupational disease, or death resulting from occupational disease, claims for compensation or benefits are forever barred unless, within two years after the disability due to the disease began, or within such longer period as does not exceed six months after diagnosis of the occupational disease by a licensed physician or within two years after death occurs, application is made to the industrial commission or the bureau of workers' compensation or to the employer if he is a self-insuring employer.
